

Section 5.0

Risk Adjustment and Reinsurance

5.1

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

NM cannot definitively respond to this requirement without having complete information about the program and costs proposed by HHS in its Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters. Notwithstanding the above, NM has the legal authority to operate the risk adjustment program.

5.1a

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

As of 12.13.12, New Mexico intends to administer a risk adjustment and reinsurance program during the first year of the Exchange's operation; however, the State cannot commit to that decision until such time as it has an opportunity to review in detail the federal risk adjustment methodology. NM has the legal authority to operate the risk adjustment program.

5.2

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

As of 12.13.12, New Mexico intends to administer a risk adjustment and reinsurance program during the first year of the Exchange's operation; however, the State cannot commit to that decision until such time as it has an opportunity to review in detail the federal risk adjustment methodology.

5.2a

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

As of 12.13.12, New Mexico intends to administer a risk adjustment and reinsurance program during the first year of the Exchange's operation; however, the State cannot commit to that decision until such time as it has an opportunity to review in detail the federal risk adjustment methodology.

5.2b

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

As of 12.13.12, New Mexico intends to administer a risk adjustment and reinsurance program during the first year of the Exchange's operation; however, the State cannot commit to that decision until such time as it has an opportunity to review in detail the federal risk adjustment methodology.

5.2c

Expected completion date: January 1, 2014

As of 12.13.12, New Mexico intends to administer a risk adjustment and reinsurance program during the first year of the Exchange's operation; however, the State cannot commit to that decision until such time as it has an opportunity to review in detail the federal risk adjustment methodology.